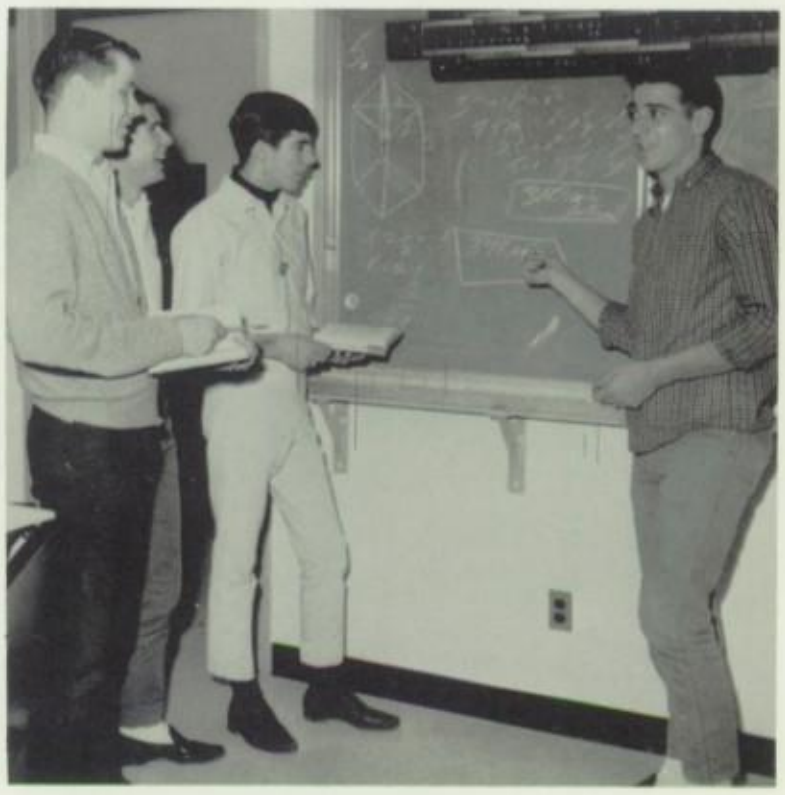
We Will Start by Meeting the Seniors



In Memory

The joy of graduating may always be overshadowed by the remembrance of the unfortunate ones who die so young that they have no chance to enjoy the world for the first time.

Doug James was one of these unfortunate ones. It is in his memory that we dedicate this page.

During Our Four Years at Portland High . . .

Our Junior Play

Our Freshman Skit

Like most of the previous classes, we started Portland High School as a frightened bunch of Freshmen. We were pushed around by the upperclassmen, but tried our best to match those Sophomores who seemed to be our natural rivals. When finally we rose to the status of Sophomores, the upperclassmen still pushed us around, but at least we were more respected than the Freshmen. As soon as we became Juniors, we sold at games, sponsored dances, sold magazines, and put on a successful play. In the spring, we treated the graduating class to a banquet. Our Senior year was filled with excitement and work, as we again sponsored different money-making events. Highlights of our last year were the "Christmas Dance", Homecoming, the Senior Play, the Senior trip, and the Junior-Senior banquet. Of course the greatest event for us was graduation.

MARILYN CHALLENDAR
Our D.A.R.
Representative

Each year the Stevens Thompson Mason Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, Ionia, Michigan, requests that each Senior class in the county choose from among its members, a girl for its good citizenship awards. Marilyn Challendar was voted this honor by her classmates. In February she was honored along with other D.A.R. representatives at a tea. In March, she competed at the State Conference in Detroit for the Good Citizenship Award.

MIKE LEFKE

"The Senior class regrets that because of injuries received in an automobile accident, Mike Lefke was unable to graduate with the class."

"A Rocket in His Pocket"

Rimrock High is the scene of the play. A new English teacher, Mr. Agnew, is replacing the old English teacher who was injured on the way to the hospital. During his first day there, Spaceman launches a rocket in the classroom, Judy and Janis drop their boyfriends, Mr. Agnew is nearly fired, and Lulu decides that Mr. Agnew is the man for her. All these problems work themselves out in an uproariously funny comedy.

Mrs. Tom Jordan directed the very successful play with the assistance of Student Directors Sally Gregg and Carol Mitchell.

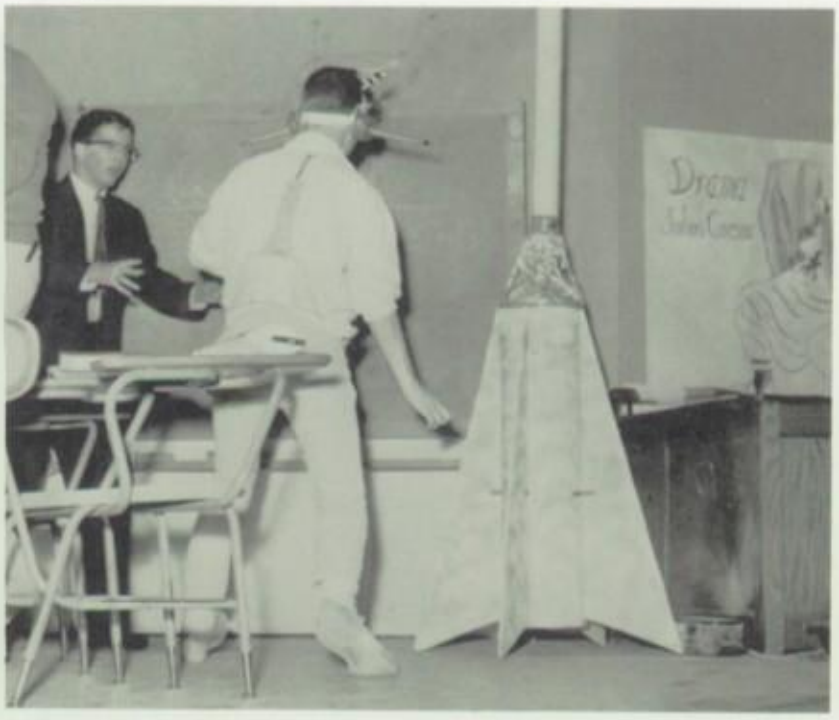
Oh Miss Chisle, you're a knockout!

The quarrels have ended and Lulu and Spaceman have found each other.

Harry and Arlin sure are swingers. Just ask them!

Harry the more you say, the madder Janis gets.

She's the principal and the coach? Watch out Arlin!



Spaceman, the classroom is no place to be launching rockets - Mr. Agnew doesn't like it.

Miss Chisel tells Mr. Agnew all about conjunctions, compound verbs, and other interesting facts about English.

Arlin's thumb is stuck and now a fire-drill - so everyone left.

Reserve Football and Basketball

The reserves have showed excellent sportsmanship and skill in basketball and football. Coaches Dugan and Bradford have been behind them all the way, and their well-formulated method of training has given them the fitness with which to play. But most of all their ambition and will-power has been the vital factor to their great success this season.

Allen,
So bad you won't be out of our Biology class. I'll miss your saying "Hello to the class" each morning
It was fun talking to you & in Algebra also. Good luck in all you do

Allen,
Do a dear ol' boy who doesn't know
first this about Algebra Remember that fish dissected in biology?
Stay as sweet and plump as you are 'cause I like ya like that.
Sherry Lewis

Allen,
Have a good summer and be good Linda Woodall Hope to see you next year.

To sweetest boy in the school. May you always stay as round and jolly as you are now. Best of luck in the future. Have a lot of fun this summer
Pam Perry

Allen,
Here's to Algebra and even if Mr. Parkhill hit more you. I think you were the one that got picked on. Those girls flirt with you too much.
